Become a member of the BDFA as one step in the Batten's Journey...

We hope that through membership of the BDFA your family will feel supported in finding out more about your child's disease after diagnosis. We hope to work alongside you each step of the way, to give you information and confidence to manage the future and provide quality of life for your child and your family. We will be able to give you news of opportunities and developments in our understanding of Batten Disease and potential therapies for the future.

Discovering that your child has Batten Disease will have come as a great shock bringing a mixture of emotions: sadness, confusion, numbness, anger, guilt, isolation or bewilderment. You might be feeling overwhelmed at your lack of knowledge about your child's condition. Perhaps you felt you could cope but now things are just getting too overwhelming...

Whatever your feelings, feel assured that other members of the BDFA, including the group's organisers, have experienced at least some, if not all, of them. We know how much it can help to talk to people who understand what you are going through.

If you are a professional, we appreciate that working with a child or young adult with Batten Disease and their family can be an intense, stressful and challenging time, but ultimately rewarding both personally and professionally. Being part of the BDFA will help keep you in touch with families and other professionals as an opportunity to share your experiences and learn from one another.

You are not alone.

Please feel free to contact us at any time. If you have a question, we will do our very best to answer it or point you in the direction of someone who can.

Thank you to all the families, friends, relatives and professionals who have joined us.

Your support makes such a difference.

Registered as a member you will be helping other families. The more members we have, the wider and stronger our network and the louder our voice to raise awareness, seek funding and facilitate research in the hope that one day soon a cure will be found.

Filling in the form gives us your up-to-date details and permissions for data protection and mailings so we can offer you the support and information you would like. Subscriptions go towards the costs of us keeping in touch. Pay by cheque each year or consider setting up a membership subscription by Standing Order as the most time/tax-efficient way to renew your membership automatically each year. Forms to help you with this are downloadable from our website.

If you have any queries/comments about membership of the BDFA, please contact Sam Simpson, Family Support Officer at the BDFA on 01233 639526 or support@bdfa-uk.org.uk. Your feedback would be much appreciated as it helps us to improve our services.
